

All Alone

All together we resemble one
But ties that keep us close have come undone
Try to make a mend this magnitude
Promise your awakening is rude

Sitting in a darkened room
Dreaming of the light that shone
Realize we're all alone

This life, that life, symphonies of pain
Play out with a menacing refrain
Peace is somewhere written - where's the score?
It will take a few to strike the chord

Sit atop a lonely world
High upon your ego throne
Realize we're all alone

All together we resemble one
But ties that keep us close have come undone
Try to make a mend this magnitude
Promise your awakening is rude

Sitting in a darkened room
Dreaming of the light that shone
Realize we're all alone
