

Without me

Don't confess - to a crime you don't commit unless the punishment has some worth Don't digress - from what it is that you believe in
as the stress will take you from this earth

Baby 'cause my love for you has faded, something's overdue
Love can be a big surprise so when I look into your eyes I see
See you without me

You without me
You without me

You repressed - oh, all the feelings I had for you when you knew that there was more to see You regressed - into the shell that you once lived in hiding love you haven't given me

Baby 'cause my love for you has faded, something's overdue
Love can be a big surprise, so when I look into your eyes I see
See you without me

You without me
You without me

Lead

Don't confess - to a crime you don't commit
unless the punishment has some worth
Don't digress - from what it is that you believe in

Baby 'cause my love for you has faded, something's overdue
Love can be a big surprise, so when I look into your eyes I see
See you without me

You without me
You without me
You without me
You without me
